The Purveyor's Thanksgiving Talk

King Turkey don't think much of Thanksgiving. He would head it off if he could. He tried it on Christmas, you'll remember, but it didn't work. It's high time to make room for the feast. King Turkey's royal person deserves to accompaniment of celery and cranberry sauce. Goose is a matter of course, and black has a host of such; but there's more than this needful not to be had of the right quality at the right price now at Stuck's.

There are culinary herbs for the turkey's stuffing; truffles and mushrooms, sauces for the gravy; olives, pickles, and chutneys, condiments, canned fruits, a whole list of vegetables including the yam in variety. Then the long list of fruits, nuts, jellies, preserves, and relishes, each suited to a proper course, adding piquancy and zest.

The olive and the spicy pickle aren't demand recognition, but how we crave the plain pudding lubricating from the butter's passage down the lights just here, but follow the carrots drops on satisfied good cheer and scrapple and gravy, pie, figs, and raisins, glass fruits with prunes and bon bons.

"Let good digestion wait on appetite." To this end cheese from the choice collection at Stuck's finish off with a cup and a spoon. No goose shall save its left with stocks and anecdotes. They'll save suppers much with and nuts and wines to their whiff; the smoker is a jolly fellow; some more than he enjoys it wants, games, and laughter. Thanksgiving night if 'twas the eating and the evening he's allowed his flavors.

Another word about cheese. Each nation has its favorite; each brand cheese of every nation can be had at Stuck's. As also dinner coffee must be pure and clear and strong—just the right sort at Stuck's.

We've not included wines in the dinner; some like one, some another, and some none at all. Epicures will have sherry, claret, burgundy champagne, and a cordial. Whatever it be, one or all, the choicest vintages of both worlds are down among Stuck's wines. Old whiskies and brandies, rare —in three words, everything sterling drinkable, and enchantable at Stuck's.

Not many need be told that Stuck's is superior in general management to any like establishment in New York or America, in the world. All roads house for Chicago. Chicago's boast pride. None other has so large a corps of employes. None other so large a number of delivery wagons. In one word, none other so vast a business.

After Thanksgiving — Christmas after Christmas — New Year's. All preparations for every holiday at Stuck's.

ASTONISHING GENEROSITY

Given Away Free Without Money and Without Price.

As a Climax to the most prosperous season's trade we have ever enjoyed, we have resolved until further notice to give free to every customer who may purchase to the extent of $12.00 a GENUINE SWISS WATCH.

The Howl Is Going Up

From our disgruntled competitors that we cannot afford to give away a watch on principle. We admit, that for standard goods in the regular way and with the customary wholesale profit, we could not give them away. It was more for chance they took—some thought that we secured over a score of these valuable, high grade at less than one-fifth their actual cost.

We Have Been Experimenting and seeing these Watches for the last month and more realized on again. The months with their shortages and disasters are very serious to up-to-date merchants. They have entangled both assets and profits, and people, like us, are overburdened and must act for an hour. We have every confidence in them, and not only recommend them, but guarantee them. Any person who may receive a watch that is not entirely satisfied will more than oblige us and get one that pleases them.

WE WILL SELL THEM.

Hitherto we have positively refused to dispose of watches except by gift, but the desire to purchase is so great that we have concluded to sell a limited number. Any one desiring to buy one may do so at the reasonable price of five dollars.

Giving away these Watches in no way affects the prices of our goods. Every article sold by us is warranted to be as low, if not lower in price, than same qualities can be bought anywhere in the United States.

The Public Opinion in Case an Outbreak Now of the Question, and the Newspaper Acting Our Navy Warships—The Support Unable to Spell the Words at the Old School Fellow—The Post Supplies Lists.

[Copyright 1909 by the Tribune Company.]

Detroit, Nov. 20.—The Saturday mix on Saturday Tuesday, when business will open with the discussion of the budget and the law for the reconstruction of the navy. The result from the latest conditions is to the public mind, the appearance yesterday of getting sitting place before the committee. Saturday, never prior to the delivery of the speech. The speech is noteworthy as public as the foreign press has made, but it is understood President with the character of being an executive document of value. The most significant part of the paragraph referring to the Philippines was the President's declaration that the new, Treasury and budget is ample to meet the needs within sight. There is not only no talk of a special bill as the president says the Congress has power and to spend. The concluding sentence referring to the conference duties at the Manila during the year in ratifying the hope of being able, very likely, to maintain the peace of Europe, has been read as intimating a greater hope that the Czar, before the actual outbreak, will speak in preserving the peace. It is plainly known that the President did not intend to convey an impression other than that he saw the whole situation clearly to avert war.

The committee Democrats Chicago Czech are trying to head off some public outcry to a tariff plan. The Fur Union Democrat has not planned that part's a congressional experiment that would a president's bill a tariff to relieve the fur trade which will be the subject of investigation that the Ways and Means committee will make. The Chicago Democrats are not there alone in the belief that the fur tariff is a matter of importance, but the difficulty confronting Chairman Payne and Democratic leaders in the House is that each one has his own particular idea as to what should be done to relieve the situation. The Chicago Democrats are for a tariff on furs, while the Democrats from the state of Washington are for a tariff on raw furs. The Democrats from Minnesota are for a tariff on furs, while the Democrats from the state of Washington are for a tariff on raw furs. The Democrats from the state of Washington are for a tariff on raw furs. The Democrats from the state of Washington are for a tariff on raw furs.

Independent Democrats on Two Ballot Contest Committees.

Republicans Claiming Right of Seats and Republican Secretaries of the Democratic Organs in a Kentucky County Claim Sheriff's Certificate, Withholding and Other Machinations to Wait Down—Pointed Correspondence.

[Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Democratic Chairman Harris of Georgia and Republican Representative of the Contested Election Committee in a Kentucky District—Republican Claimant Withholding and Other Machinations to Wait Down—Pointed Correspondence.

There were two or three surprises in Committee Room No. 28 this afternoon when the Committee on Elections No. 2 met to hear the Breckinridge-Hunter and Breckinridge-Settle contested election cases brought in from Kentucky. Both these districts, it will be remembered, are in the Democratic column, and the contests are for the possession of the seat during the remainder of the present session of congress. The most likely to succeed from the Democratic standpoint was the Hunter case, as the Republican contestant, Settle, was not in the field at the last election, and the Democratic contestant, Breckinridge, had a majority of 1,000 over Hunter, the Republican candidate. It did not, however, appear that Settle was without support in the district, for he had a number of friends present, and several of them were on the witness stand. Hunter, the sitting member, was also present, and was represented by Attorney Bronson, who is also counsel for Breckinridge. Both cases were argued by the same counsel, and the same witnesses were examined in both cases, the testimony in the Settle case being merely a duplication of that in the Hunter case. The contestant in each case claims that a number of illegal votes were cast for the sitting member, and that a number of legal votes were cast for the contestant which were not counted for him. The contestant in each case claims that the election officers in a number of precincts in the district were guilty of fraud in the conduct of the election, and that the returns from those precincts should be thrown out. These precincts, it is claimed, should be thrown out because the election officers appointed were not residents of the precincts, and because they failed to take the oath required by law before entering upon the discharge of their duties. The contestant in each case claims that the election officers in a number of precincts refused to receive the votes of legal voters who offered to vote for the contestant, and that the votes of such persons should be counted for the contestant. The contestant in each case claims that the election officers in a number of precincts refused to receive the votes of legal voters who offered to vote for the contestant, and that the votes of such persons should be counted for the contestant.

[Illegible] Democratic Secretaries.

The Democratic Secretaries of the Democratic organs in the district, Mr. [illegible], of the Owensboro Messenger, and Mr. [illegible], of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian, were present, and were examined as witnesses. Both these gentlemen, it is said, have been appointed by the Democratic members of the Committee to the positions of Secretaries of the Democratic members of the Committee, which means that they will receive $125 per month each for their services during the remainder of the present session of congress. Mr. [illegible], of the Owensboro Messenger, is a brother of Mr. [illegible], the Democratic candidate for governor of Kentucky, and is also a brother-in-law of Mr. [illegible], the Democratic candidate for governor of Kentucky.
